

V. References

- Y. Nagazusumi (1987): 「唐船輸出入品数一覽 1637 ~ 1833」、396 頁、創文社
- T. Tsukahara and M. Osawa (1989) : On the Siebold collection of crude drugs and related materials from Japan. Bull. Tokyo Gakugei University Sect. IV Math. Nat. Sci., Vol. 41, 41-97.
- T, Tagai and A. Mikouchi (2010a): The old Japanese mineral collection in Leiden, the Netherlands. Rocks and Minerals No. 5, Vol.85, 450-452.
- T. Tagai and A. Mikouchi (2010b) : Mineral collection of Philipp Franz von Siebold (II). (in 'Mineral and fossil collections of Philipp Franz von Siebold' ed. by T. Tagai and T. Sasaki). Univ. Mus. Univ. Tokyo. Bull. No. 45, 1-212.
- T. Tagai and A. Mikouchi (2008) : Mineral collection and Lapidographia Japonica by P. F. von Siebold. Univ. Mus. Univ. Tokyo. Bull. No. 43, 1-282.

VI. Acknowledgements

We thank Dr. W. Prins and Prof. Dr. L. Kriegsman (Naturalis) for kindly giving us the opportunity to investigate Siebold mineral collection in Naturalis and giving us important information on the collection. We thank Dr. L. Schröpfer (Univ. Frankfurt/M.) for reading and translating the geological and mineralogical draft by H. Bürger. We express our sincere thanks to Mrs. M. Sakamoto (Univ. Museum, Univ. Tokyo) for giving us the important information on the crude drugs. We are indebted to Prof. Dr. T. Yamaguchi (Kumamoto Univ.), Dr. S. Akiyama (National Mus. Nat. and Sci., Japan) and Dr. T. Sasaki (Univ. Museum, Univ. Tokyo) for useful discussions. English text was critically read and refined by Dr. M. Zolenski (NASA).

This research was financially supported by the Grant-in-Aid for Scientific Research of The Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology of Japan (Project No.13571040, 16401036 and 21401048) and by the Toshiba International Foundation.